How we do it <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Environment, Resources, Equipment, Curriculum, Teaching and Planning Healthcare within Educational Settings 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There are systems of self-assessment which are used to inform personalised learning, for example Assessment for Learning (AfL). Reasonable adjustments are made to the environment and learning resources to remove barriers to access. Groupings and seating arrangements are planned and monitored to facilitate learning. Focused small group work for literacy and numeracy is in place, for example; phonics groups, Spelling Detectives Intervention, Numicon Intervention programme. Out of hours learning opportunities, eg homework clubs, lunchtime clubs are in place. The setting incorporates elements of evidence-based good practice into the everyday curriculum, for example multi-sensory learning and 'What works for pupils with literacy difficulties?' 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> There are appropriate modifications to the learning environment to support learning, for example: Inclusive Communication, Alternative forms of recording, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, high-frequency words lists, etc. Where appropriate external services contribute, via consultation or specialist assessment, to a more specialist plan. Additional adult support may be required at an individual level or within a small group to provide a range of interventions and support approaches that are time bound, structured, and individualised, for example the Individual Literacy Intervention (ILI). There is increasing differentiation of activities and materials, including access to assistive technology and specialist equipment where appropriate. There is a provision map in place which has a range of small group interventions available for high incidence needs. Reducing the breadth of curriculum is considered to focus on key skill areas. 	Please refer to the Somerset Core Standards for all children and young people (0-25) for further information.
